When you're
stressed,
what's your
most
predictable
coping
strategy?

UNDENIABLE

What's
something you
regularly thank
God for that
might seem
insignificant to
someone else?

Which is harder
for you:
keeping your
mouth shut,
admitting
you're wrong,
or waiting
patiently?

What is one
“good” desire in
your life that
still has the potential to
pull your heart
away from God?

When you're
having a terrible
day, what's your
go-to comfort:
food, sleep,
shopping, venting,
solitude,
scrolling,
something else?

Which is hardest
for you: waiting,
being
interrupted,
changing your
plans, or not
getting the last
word?

For best results, print on cardstock

What's one
act of
kindness
someone has
done for you
that you'll
never forget?

You're
unexpectedly
given an entire
day with no
responsibilities.
What are you
doing?

If someone
followed you
around for a
week, what
would they
conclude is
really important
to you?

If patience is a
spiritual
discipline, what
tests yours the
fastest?
Traffic?
Technology? Slow
walkers? Being put
on hold?
Something else?

Where have you
seen God at
work lately—in
something big,
small, serious,
or completely
ordinary?

Which tests
your self-
control most: a
plate of
cookies, an
online sale,
gossip, or the
snooze button?

What brings
out your
impatience
faster than
anything
else?
